Background

At the Committee meeting on November 19, staff will share an update on the Small Communities Planning Program and its early progress. The Small Communities Planning Program offers a high level of comprehensive planning assistance to support 28 very small communities in the region with their 2050 Comprehensive Plan updates. The Program is formally underway, and the Met Council staff team is beginning active collaboration with all participating cities and townships. Program staff are focused on the technical work of collecting information, data, and maps, and drafting the plan chapters with input from the community. Local officials and community members are beginning to identify the vision, priorities, and strategic direction that will guide their community through the year 2050.

At the Land Use Advisory Committee, project leads will overview progress to date and upcoming activities.
